Interactive Discussion Group with Today's Top Leaders in Homeopathic Research

- Welcome and Introductions- Moderator: Bill Gray, MD, DHT
- Basic Science Research- Rustom Roy, PhD
- Applications of Quantitative and Qualitative Methods in Homeopathic Clinical Research- Iris Bell, MD, MD(H), PhD
- Homeopathic Proving and Observational Outcomes Research - David Riley, MD
- Practice Based Research- Todd Rowe, MD, MD(H), CCH, DHT
- Open Discussion and Wrap Up Goal

The goal of this pre-conference was to provide an informal and intimate setting for homeopathic researchers to discuss and work together in collaboration. The focus is to advance serious research in homeopathy as opposed to clinical trials that "prove" homeopathy works to skeptics.
